

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, Kuma was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Akuma, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Bear. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of A Kuma, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Bear.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a Small Bear to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, A'n was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Connster, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named tricycle. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of a fish, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed tricycle.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a ManPong to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, The legendary Hero was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, The legendary Sidekick, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named The legendary public transport. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of The legendary hero's treasured object, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed The legendary public transport.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a The legendary UNICOOOORRRN to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, ManPong was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Vishnap, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Sloth. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of You, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Sloth.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a Snail to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, buzz was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, lightyear, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named bullseye. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of a carrot, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed bullseye.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a dog to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, John Howard was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Eiman Oldman, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Rolly Chair. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of Harvey Norman, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Rolly Chair.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a Kony Tran (Conny) to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, Schteiner was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Barney Stinson, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Usain Bolt. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of a potato, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Usain Bolt.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a fish to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, Schteiner's twin was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, foot, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named elaine's head. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of christina's toenail, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed elaine's head.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a doobby <3 to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, Sheldon was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Cat woman, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Flying Saucer. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of Penny, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Flying Saucer.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a Dragon to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, Twilight Sparkle was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Alfred, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named worm-mobile. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of Fifty Shades of Grey, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed worm-mobile.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a Eklavya Ann Kush - The Mythical Beast to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, Super Woo was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Fobbin' Wood, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Flying Cardbox Box. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of Mr Woo's Son, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Flying Cardbox Box.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a Pok Him Siu to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, John was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Ted the Teddy Bear, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Mario Kart. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of A POK, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Mario Kart.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a LOLCAT to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, Man was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Boy, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Bike. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of Pikachu, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Bike.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a Ishraq to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, batman was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, robin, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named batmobile. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of bats, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed batmobile.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a bat to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, Captain Sparklez was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, MOOOOO, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Pig. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of Pickaxe, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Pig.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a Hamster to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, Dot was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Sparkle, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Raymond Han. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of Catfish, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Raymond Han.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a Ishraq Huda to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, John Smith was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Rocky..the pet rock, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Unicycle with 3 wheels. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of 3 bananas, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Unicycle with 3 wheels.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a General Aladeen to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, Mr David Jones was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, A pet rock, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Batmobile. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of a wild pidgey, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Batmobile.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a A guinea pig to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, Nicronjester was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Soul, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named The Bikemobile. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of Deathscythe, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed The Bikemobile.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a Ghost to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, A chicken was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, A dog, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Yoshi. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of a computer, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Yoshi.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a A cat to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, Ricky was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, Ishraq, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named Ishraq's piggyback ride. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of Ricky's hair, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed Ishraq's piggyback ride.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a a three-legged cat to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.

There was a big story being written by a man and then there was a problem. Because the hero, NANANANANANANANANANANANANANANANANA was writing a very bad story! I did not know what was happening when I entered the story, but his sidekick, BATMAN, said that the hero was angry and wanted to smash his vehicle, named THE BATMOBILE. This would not be good, as they would not be able to get home in time to take care of THE JOKER, as if they did not take care of it, it would explode into pieces.

Then the hero smashed THE BATMOBILE.

Fortunately, I was able to convince a A BAT to make the hero happy and to take him home.

THE END.